#HeritageChat is a monthly, one-hour Twitter chat for the historic environment sector. It is run on the third Thursday of the month, 13.00-14.00, from the handle @HeritageChat and uses the tag #HeritageChat so that participants can keep track of the conversation.

Storify Archives

Each month #HeritageChat will be archived using Storify and linked to the Heritage2020 website from here.

Heritage 2020 foresight day

On 8th February members of the Heritage 2020 working groups and the Historic Environment Forum came together to discuss diversity in the historic environment sector and how priorities could be addressed through collaborative working. Notes from the day are now available. The challenges, priority actions and suggestions for collaboration could be grouped under three main headings of data, process and perception.

Key issues identified:

- Data – more work needed to influence data collection
- Process – recruitment/governance/promotion
- Perception – definitions of heritage, low pay

We are inviting historic environment organisations to participate in our scheme to increase workforce diversity in the sector.

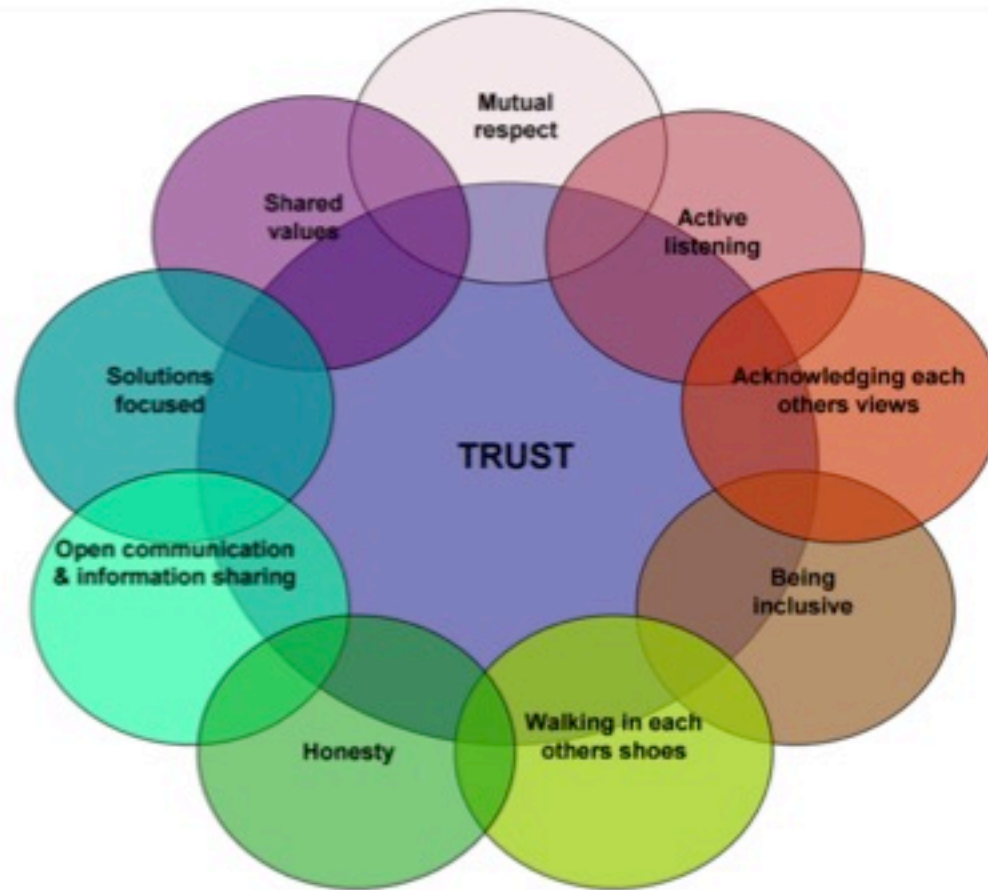

Heritage and the High Street: Which Way Now?

Event - Wednesday 6 December - Birmingham

The future of our historic high streets is a key concern for the heritage sector as well as local communities, businesses and investors, and a Heritage 2020 priority.

Heritage 2020 is holding a seminar to review heritage and high streets, see the Constructive Conservation and Sustainable Management page for information and booking.
